MENA Financial Show kicks off in Dubai amidst Brexit and US elections

The Arabcom Group organizes the 17th MENA International Financial Conference and Exhibition on Thursday 3 and Friday 4 November 2016 at the Westin Mina Seyahi Hotel in Dubai. Marking its eighth anniversary, the show is successfully the leading B2B & B2C event in the MENA region covering a wide array of business and investments opportunities in the online trading, Fintech, and managed funds industries.

The show is expected to welcome 1500 traders, investors, IBs, affiliates, businessmen, Fintech savvies, and decision-makers from 40 countries in the largest networking platform.

Arabcom Group President Katia Tayar said that “technology has revolutionized the world of electronic investments and trading in financial markets,” stressing that “investors became more demanding while brokerage companies and service providers of financial services are in constant search for sophisticated tools and techniques to retain their customers and attract others and share experiences with them.”

Tayar added that “the show will cover latest Fintech and highlight online trading via computers and smartphones, investing in currencies, commodities, stocks, shares, bonds, options, future contracts, binary options, oil, gold, indices, CFDs, portfolio management, wealth management, managed FX funds, Islamic accounts, automated, algorithmic and social trading, and different investment opportunities in other financial derivatives.”

The Expo will host top tier global brokerage houses, banks, financial institutions and academies which will showcase latest trading platforms, offerings and services.
